2.2 SERVICE HOURS

2.3 REGULATIONS AND COMPUTATION OF MILEAGE

- 2.3.1 Calls originating in one time period and terminating in another will be billed for the entire call according to rate period specific billing. That is, if a call continues into a different rate period, the appropriate rate(s) from that rate period apply to that portion(s) of the call occurring in that rate period.
- 2.3.2 All times refer to local time of originating point of call.
- 2.3.3 All calls are rated between the originating point and terminating point.
- A. Originating Point
1. The originating point for dial access calls shall be the location of the local exchange company central office associated with the customer's Primary Calling Number for equal access calls placed over presubscribed or exchange lines, or the central office associated with the two digit access number dialed for non equal access calls.
 2. The originating point for a direct access call shall be the locations of the local exchange central office serving the customer's premises where the call originates.

B. Terminating Point

The terminating point for all calls shall be the location of the local serving central office associated with the called number.

2.3.4 Airline mileage, where mileage is the basis for rating calls, is obtained by using the "V" and "H" coordinates assigned to each point and contained in AT&T FCC Tariff No. 264. To determine the airlines distance between any two cities, proceed as follows:

- A. Obtain the "V" and "H" coordinates for each city. The "V" coordinate is the first four digits in the "H" column. The "H" coordinate is the next four digits.
- B. Obtain the difference between the "V" coordinates of each of the cities. Obtain the difference between the "H" coordinates.
- C. Square each difference obtained in step II (instruction B) above.
- D. Add the square of the "V" difference and the "H" difference obtained in step III (instruction C) above.
- E. Divide the sum of the square by 10. Round this number to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained.
- F. Obtain the square root of the whole number result obtained above. Round to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained. This is the airline mileage.

The mileage formula as described above is mathematically shown below:

$$\text{Mileage} = \sqrt{\frac{(V_1 - V_2)^2 + (H_1 - H_2)^2}{10}}$$
