k. (Cont'd)

- (5) Existing customers subscribing to an Individual Case Billing (ICB) Arrangement may migrate from their current agreement/plan to the same year under a Rewarding Connections Plan (i.e., year five on the ICB to year five under a Rewarding Connections Plan). Termination liability charges do not apply. A transition period will apply, until the expiration of the ICB, to migrate the customer from the ICB to the Rewarding Connections Plan. The Commitment established in the ICB will become the Rewarding Connections Plan established base period qualifying usage. During the transition period, the customer's actual qualifying usage realized under the Rewarding Connections Plan will also be used to continue to meet the customer's ICB commitment, and the actual qualifying usage realized under the ICB will be used to meet the customer's Rewarding Connections commitment. As set forth in Tariff PSC NY No. 1--COMMUNICATIONS, for Large Volume Discount Plan, during the same transition period, customers who qualify to combine ICB qualifying usage with Rewarding Connections qualifying usage may also combine qualifying toll usage under Large Volume Discount Plan (LVDP) with qualifying toll usage under Rewarding Connections. The customer's actual qualifying usage realized under the Rewarding Connections Plan will also be used to continue to meet the customer's LVDP commitment, and the actual qualifying usage realized under LVDP will be used to meet the customer's Rewarding Connections commitment.
