SECTION 1 - GENERAL REGULATIONS

2.4   RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CUSTOMER

2.4.1   General - The Customer's responsibilities are described in this section.

   A.   Placement of Orders, Payment of Bills and Compliance with Regulations - The Customer is responsible for placing orders, complying with tariff regulations and for assuring that its Users comply with tariff regulations. The Customer is also responsible for the payment of bills for a local channel service. The Customer may appoint an agent to act on its behalf, as specified in B. following.

      1.   Information the Customer Must Provide - When a Customer places an order for a local channel service, the following information must be provided by the Customer so that AT&T can design, install, maintain and bill the local channel service ordered:

           -    The contact name, telephone number, and address at each of the Customer's premises where the installation will be made,
           -    The Area Code and first three digits of the telephone number which the local exchange company assigns at each premises where the installation will be made.
           -    The Customer's billing name and address,
           -    The category of local channel service, interface and signaling (if required),
           -    The AT&T central office, if any, to which the local channel service is to be routed (when the Customer elects to specify routing or when the local channel service consists solely of access coordination function).
           -    The location of Local Exchange Company bridges (when a multipoint local channel service is ordered),
           -    Information regarding Customer Equipment as specified in Part 68.106 of the FCC Rules and Regulations - (Notification to telephone company).
