L. Anonymous Call Rejection with Repeat Dial/Caller ID

A Customer can redirect incoming calls for which calling name and number display has been suppressed through the use of Call ID Block or Caller ID Blocking Per Line, to an announcement indicating that the Customer is not presently accepting such calls. The Customer may activate or deactivate this feature without charge by dialing a code. This service includes all the features and functionality described in Repeat Dial and Caller ID.

M. Caller ID

This feature allows the Customer to view on a display unit the telephone number of the calling party. If the calling number is from a hunt group only the main number will be transmitted.

Caller ID allows the Customer to receive the telephone number of the calling party, including telephone numbers associated with Non-Listed and Non-Published service, prior to answering the call. When the Customer orders this feature, the directory number of the calling party, the time of the call and the date are sent to and displayed on Customer Provided Premise Equipment (CPE) attached to the Customer's telephone line. A Customer subscribing to this feature may also receive the Anonymous Call Rejection feature. This feature is available on a recurring charge basis.
