SECTION 20 – AUDIO-TELECONFERENCE BRIDGE

20.8 REGULATIONS (Cont'd)

- I. The party in control pays for all charges except as noted in 20.8.J following.
- J. On a Meet-Me type teleconference, the party in control may elect to pay all charges or pay only for the AT&T ALLIANCE teleconference service charges (i.e., Bridge Port Usage charges and Set-Up charges) and have each conferee pay his or her own Conference Leg Usage charges.
- K. Chargeable time for an Operator Assisted conference call begins when connection is established between all of the stations on the conference call.
- L. Chargeable time for an Operator Assisted call ends on any two-point connection of a conference call when either the calling station or the called station hangs up.
- M. A meet-me (dial-in) conference allows conferees to call-in to the bridge. The meet-me bridge arrangement provides three billing options. The options are available as specified in 20.8.N, 20.8.O, and 20.8.P following.
- N. Meet-me Bridge Arrangement Option 1 - The conference originator can elect to pay the entire conference charge or have the Conference Leg Usage Charge billed directly to each conferee. In the case where the Conference Leg Usage Charge is billed to each conferee, all other conference charges will be billed to the conference originator.
- O. Meet-me Bridge Arrangement Option 2 - All conference charges are billed to the conference originator. Conferees can be added to the bridge arrangement by: 1) the conferees dialing into the bridge arrangement, or 2) operator assistance.
- P. Meet-me Bridge Arrangement Option 3- The conference originator will be billed for Non-recurring Charges and Bridge Port Usage Charges. If a conferee provides its own transport to the bridge, Conference Leg Usage Charges do not apply. The conference originator will be billed for all charges for conferees added to the conference call by the operator.
