12.7 Emergency Telephone Number Service (9-1-1)

The Company has provided primary and secondary trunking (for redundancy) to route 9-1-1 traffic from the Company's switch to the regional Bell Operating Company (RBOC) Central Offices that route 9-1-1 calls to the Public Safety Answering Points (PSAP).

12.7.1 Liability

- A) The Company's entire liability to the customer or any person for interruption or failure of 9-1-1 service shall be limited by the terms set forth in this section, and in other tariffs of the Company. This 9-1-1 service is offered solely to assist the customer in providing 9-1-1 emergency service in conjunction with applicable fire, police and other public safety agencies. By providing this service to the customer, the does not create any relationship or obligation, direct or indirect, to any third party other than the customer.
- C) The Company shall not be liable for civil damages, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, to any person, corporation, or other entity for any loss or damage caused by any Company act or omission in the design, development, installation, maintenance, or provision of 9-1-1 service other than an act or omission constituting gross negligence or wanton or willful misconduct. However, in no event shall the Company's liability to any person, corporation, or other entity for any loss or damage exceed an amount equal to the pro-rated allowance of the tariff rate for the service and facilities provided to the customer for the time such interruption to service or facilities continues, after notice by the customer to the Company. No allowances shall be made if the interruption is due to the negligence of willful act of the customer.
