- iv. Whenever more than one customer shall be connected to said extension, said surcharge shall be so adjusted as to yield to the Company not more than said 19 per cent in any one year from all customers served from said extension and said shall be reasonably allocated to the several customers served from said extension, taking into account that 75 feet of main and a service are to be allowed without surcharge for each customer connected thereto;
  - v. Whenever the number of customers on a main extension multiplied by 75 feet shall equal or exceed the length of the main extension, all surcharges shall cease; and
  - vi. In lieu of the above surcharge, the applicant may at his opinion pay the cost of the main extension in excess of 75 feet subject to the annual refunds without interest determined as the proportion of the number of new customers connected to the extension that year multiplied by 75 feet related to the total extension length multiplied by the total cost of the extension. However, refunds shall cease after 10 years or when the total of all refunds equals the amount of the original payment made by the applicant.
- (c) The applicant shall first have furnished reasonable security as to performance of his agreement if so required by the Company; said reasonable security as to performance shall be by advance payment of the surcharge for a period not to exceed one year, or where an applicant's premises does not yet exist, by completion of the foundation and construction of a substantial portion of the premises framing before main extension construction is commenced, or by deposit by the applicant of the entire estimated cost of the extension until said premises construction is complete.

33.4 Applicants Who Cannot Qualify As Reasonably Permanent Customers

- (a) An applicant who cannot qualify as a reasonably permanent customer as detailed in paragraph 33.3 (a) of this Section, may be required to deposit the entire cost of the main extension and installed services with the Company. The portion of the deposit related to the length of main extension within 75 feet, and the cost of the service, hydrants and accessories shall be refunded without interest within 30 days of the applicant taking service and demonstrating reasonable permanency.
- (b) Developers who are subdividing or preparing real estate for residential or commercial occupancy, who require the installation of utility plant in advance of occupancy, the Company may retain as a deposit the cost of the entire extension, subject to annual refunds without interest determined as the proportion of the number of new customers connected to the extension that year multiplied by 75 feet, related to the total extension length multiplied by the total amount of the
