GENERAL INFORMATION

12. ELECTRICITY SUPPLY PRICING OPTION ENROLLMENTS (Cont'd)

F. Changing Electricity Supply Pricing Options (Cont'd):

3. Process for Changing to a Non-Retail Access Electricity Supply Pricing Option, January 1, 2005 and thereafter:

An EPO customer for whom RG&E receives an ESCO's retail access drop request will be enrolled in the VPO.

A customer on the EOSA, for whom RG&E receives an ESCO's retail access drop request, will be enrolled in the FPO.

4. Customers Taking Service under Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rates

A customer who is no longer taking service under a special contract or receiving an incentive or discounted rate which by its terms would preclude eligibility may select an Electricity Supply Pricing Option. The customer has 30 days after the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate expiration or termination date to select an Electricity Supply Pricing Option.

A customer electing a Retail Access Electricity Supply Pricing Option must adhere to the process set forth above in Section 12.F.2; the ESCO will contact RG&E directly to convey the customer's Electricity Supply Pricing Option and Retail Access enrollment.

A customer electing a Non-Retail Access electricity supply pricing option should contact RG&E to convey its selection.

Effective through December 31, 2008:

The FPO rate may be adjusted on April 1 of the commodity rate period. A customer who chooses FPO prior to the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate expiration date will receive the FPO rate in effect on the first day RG&E begins to provide supply service after the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate has expired.

Effective beginning January 1, 2009:

A customer who chooses FPO prior to the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate expiration date will receive the FPO rate in effect on the first day RG&E begins to provide supply service after the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate has expired.

If the customer contacts RG&E with their Non-Retail Access electricity supply pricing option selection after the end date of the Special Contract, Incentive or Discounted rate, the Non-Retail Access electricity supply pricing option will be applicable to usage on and after the next meter reading date after RG&E is contacted with that option selection, subject to the 30 day notice limitation.

If such customer does not communicate its electricity supply pricing option prior to the time the bill is issued, RG&E will bill the customer at the VPO.
