C. There are two levels of Person-to-Person service. They are:

1. Operator-handled: Operator-handled service is where the person originating the call requests the operator to dial the number. The operator collects the necessary information to process the call.

2. Operator-assisted: Operator-assisted service is where the person originating the call dials zero and the telephone number.

6.1.2 Station to Station

Station-to-station calls are those calls where the person originating the call to a telephone company operator or dials to a particular telephone number to be reached does not specify any particular person, station point or department. Station to Station services offered are as follows:

A. Dial Station-to-Station is where the person originating the call dials the telephone number desired and the call is completed without the assistance of a Company operator. The call is billed to the originating number. When an operator places a call for the calling party who has attempted to complete the call but has been unable to do so due to network technical difficulties, the dial rate applies.

B. There are three type of station-to-station Operator Assistance services: Non-Automated; Semi-Automated; and Fully Automated.
