SERVICE CLASSIFICATION NO. 4A

MONTHLY AVERAGE DAY INTERRUPTIBLE TRANSPORTATION SERVICE

Applicable to use of Service for:

All purposes on an interruptible basis to any customer:

1. having the ability to accommodate a complete discontinuance of service during periods of high demand for gas by customers with a higher service priority;
2. who will contract for transportation service in a written service agreement that specifies:
 - a. a Contract Volume of not less than 15,000 therms;
 - b. an annual minimum volume of not less than 1,500,000 therms;
3. who has contracted to purchase natural gas from a party other than the company;
4. who will agree to deliver gas to the company at customer's monthly average daily rate of consumption, including during periods of curtailment or interruption of service ordered by the company.

The aggregate Quantity of gas which company may purchase from customer during periods of curtailment or discontinuance of service, ordered during the period of November 1 to April 30 of any contract year, shall not exceed a contractually negotiated number of times customer's Contract Volume.

At each month end, imbalances between the volume of gas delivered and the volume of gas consumed shall be deemed to be "Tolerable" and shall be cleared pursuant to the rules specified for such imbalances in 2.XI.K.3.

Prior to the 20th of each month, and for the remaining days of such month, customer may increase or decrease the nominated daily quantity by not more than 10% of the daily quantity originally nominated for such month. If customer elects to use this provision to reduce the nominated daily quantity, company shall have a first right of refusal to purchase customer's reduced quantity at a mutually agreeable price.

Character of Service:

Transportation service at pressures to be agreed upon but not less than 4 inches water column. Interruptible service supplied hereunder shall be subject to such immediate or other curtailment or interruptions as company, in its sole judgment, shall deem necessary.
