SERVICE CLASSIFICATION NO. 10

DISTRIBUTED GENERATION – NON-RESIDENTIAL (Cont'd)

Special Provisions (cont'd):

5. The charges under this service classification apply only to distributed generation use. Natural gas used by the customer for all other purposes shall be measured and billed separately from this service classification under the appropriate service classification(s).
6. For purposes of this service classification, cogeneration and distributed generation means the sequential production of electricity and/or mechanical energy and useful form of thermal energy from a single input energy source. Distributed generation technologies are those that represent generating units designed to provide electricity to a single customer or specific customers within a defined geographical location.
7. The customer agrees to permit access by the company's employees or representatives, at all reasonable times, to the customer's premises for the purpose of determining that the operation of installed cogeneration equipment and distributed generation equipment and related facilities is in compliance with all terms and conditions for service required under this service classification.
8. Customer's usage will be subject to an annual review to determine their load factor.
