SERVICE CLASSIFICATION No. 6

INTERRUPTIBLE SUPPLEMENTAL SERVICE

APPLICABLE FOR SERVICE FOR:

Qualifying Customers of the Company who desire the Company to maintain the facilities to provide the Customer with natural gas service to supplement the Customer's independent supply of natural gas. A qualifying Customer must: (1) have an independent supply source of natural gas being made available to the Customer by way of a pipeline system independent of the Company's pipeline system; (2) have traditionally experienced their peak usage during December, January or February; and (3) have an independent supply of natural gas and/or other fuel source capable of meeting the Customer's full daily requirements during the months of December, January and February.

CHARACTER OF SERVICE:

Interruptible natural gas service to supplement the Customer's independent supply of natural gas, available to the Customer up to a specified volume; interruptible at the Company's discretion; primarily natural gas with minimum B.T.U. content 1,000, and normal pressure not less than four inches. Gas service will be provided when: (i) The Company's facilities and gas supply are adequate or can be economically provided to supply the Customer's requirements; (ii) Such service is not anticipated to jeopardize the Company's service to other Customers; and (iii) The Customer does not take service under any other service classification. All gas sold under this Service Classification shall be subject to interruption at the sole discretion of the Company.

RATE:

The Customers receiving service under this Service Classification shall pay the same rates as they would under Service Classification No. 3. The Customer's rate will be adjusted in accordance with the applicable Sections in Service Classification No. 3 relating to Gas Adjustment, Revenue Credit, Take or Pay Recovery, Stranded Capacity Cost Charge, and Increase in Rates in Municipality Where Service is Supplied.
