GENERAL INFORMATION*24. STANDBY SERVICE AND STANDBY SERVICE RATES (Continued)*24.5 OTHER PROVISIONS

(A) The following types of customers with on-site generation facilities will be treated as taking service under this General Information Section but billed at the Standard Rates and charges of the customer's service classification. The Interconnection Charge and all other terms and conditions of this General Information Section shall continue to apply to these customers.

(1) Customers who would otherwise receive service under Service Classification Nos. 1 or 19 of this Rate Schedule and non-demand metered customers that would otherwise receive service under Service Classification No. 2 of this Rate Schedule, provided that they commence operation of their on-site generation facilities on or before May 31, 2023.

(2) Customers with contract demands of less than 50 kW with on-site generating equipment having a total nameplate rating greater than 15 percent of the maximum potential demand served from all sources; provided, however, that customers not described in subparagraph (1) above, may elect to be billed under Standby Service Rates. Customers who elect to be billed under Standby Service Rates must provide 30 days' advance notice to the Company. Billing at Standby Service Rates and charges will commence with the customer's first full billing cycle for which interval data is available subsequent to the Company's receipt of notice.

Customers with contract demands of less than 50 kW who elect to be billed under Standby Service Rates will be ineligible for billing under the Standard Rate of such customer's service classification for one year subsequent to commencing billing under Standby Service Rates. Should a customer with a contract demand less than 50 kW elect to discontinue billing under Standby Service Rates, such customer shall be ineligible for billing under Standby Service Rates for one year subsequent to making such election.

(B) A customer billed under Standby Service Rates may segregate any portion of the total requirements of its load so that such portion is served exclusively with the Company's service under another appropriate Standard Rate of this Rate Schedule. The portion of the load that is segregated and supplied under a Standard Rate shall not be considered in the determination of the customer's contract demand.
