2.2 DEFINITIONS (Continued)

COMPANY means Orange and Rockland Utilities, Inc.

COMPANY METER means a meter owned by the Company.

DEMAND CUSTOMER means a customer who is billed for demand charges.

DIRECT RETAIL CUSTOMER means a customer with a monthly demand of one MW or greater that acts without an ESCO to obtain electric power supply, for its own consumption and not for resale, under the Company's Retail Access Program. A Direct Retail Customer may aggregate and schedule electric power supply for itself and other Direct Retail Customers, each of which would continue to be responsible individually for meeting requirements placed on Direct Retail Customers. Direct Retail Customers must also comply with operating requirements established by the NYISO. The term "ESCO", when used in this Rate Schedule, includes a Direct Retail Customer, which has the same rights and obligations as an ESCO but is not subject to Commission oversight with respect to eligibility.

DISTRIBUTION LINE means an electric line used to distribute electric energy, which will or may reasonably be expected to provide service to more than one customer.

ELECTRIC ENERGY STORAGE refers to storage technologies that have the ability to store energy and discharge electricity.

ELECTRIC POWER SUPPLY means the electricity required to meet customers' needs, including energy, operating capacity, losses, ancillary services and installed capacity, including reserves required by the NYISO, transported to the Company's transmission and distribution system boundary, for subsequent delivery by the Company to its customers.
