II.3.F. – Cont'd

G. Installation of Additional Mains and Service Lines

The Company shall install at its own expense the main and service lines as provided in General Information Section 3.B. However, the Company may install additional mains and service lines without charge to the Customer when, in the opinion of the Company, the Customer's anticipated load justifies the Company's investment in additional facilities. The Company further retains the right to require such Customers to make reasonable assurances as to their anticipated purchases of the Company's service.
