SECTION 2 – SERVICE CHARGES

A. SERVICE CHARGES (cont'd)

2. Applications (cont'd)

b. Initial Charges

In addition to service connection charge previously described, initial charges apply to the furnishing of certain facilities and equipment. Initial Charges are those charges, which are charged in advance for establishing the service and for the provisioning of special facilities. No initial charge is made when the facility is retained continuously by the customer irrespective of any changes of location.

1. Reuse of Facilities in Place

- a. No initial charge applies when facilities are reused in place

c. Moves

The Company reserves the exclusive right of making changes in the location of its lines and equipment. When it is found that a move or change of such lines or equipment has been made by other, charges apply as if the Company had done the work.

The total of the charges for a move, change or other rearrangements made at the same time shall not exceed the charge which would apply to a new connection or installation of such equipment and the lines that terminate therein (excluding multiple terminations).

A move is a change in location of existing regulated equipment or a demarcation point to a different location in the same building or in a different building on the same premises, without interruption of the service other than that incidental to the work performed. (Other changes in location of existing service are classified as a connection).

In addition to the charge for each move, a Service Order Charge will also apply.
