Purpose of the Filing

The Company is filing tariff amendments in compliance with Ordering Clause 2 of the April Order to provide for crediting of remote net metered customers that are also non-demand customers on a volumetric instead of a monetary basis prospectively, to the extent the customer is not grandfathered into monetary crediting under the Transition Plan described in the body of the April Order.

Overview

In December, 2014, the Commission issued an order that included a provision to transition from monetary crediting to volumetric crediting as a result of customers pursuing remote net metering in lieu of traditional net metering to take advantage of non-demand service classification rates¹.

The change to volumetric crediting set forth in the December order was subsequently stayed as a result of petitions for rehearing that were filed with the Commission. The April Order established a transition plan for switching to volumetric crediting on a prospective basis. A customer that has an account on a non-demand service classification and submits an application to remote net meter after June 1, 2015 will be subject to volumetric crediting².

A customer that is non-demand billed and submitted an application for remote net metering prior to June 1, 2015 is grandfathered under existing rules where the remote net metering credits are developed using a monetary per kWh rate. The credit methodology for a customer that is grandfathered and receiving credits based on a monetary per kWh rate will remain in effect for a period of 25 years from the date of the April Order (April 17, 2040), or 25 years from the in-service date of the project, whichever is later.

Newspaper Publication

In accordance with Ordering Clause 2 of the Order, the requirements of 66(12)(b) of the Public Service Law requiring newspaper publication has been waived.
